Four pairs of circles on one axis

Sumerian King List Short · The inner crossing at 2906 BC shifts 150 years later to 2756 BC.

— Full circles

2,200 years each

Adam to Isaac’s close
4106–1906 BC

Moses to Jared’s opening
1406–3606 BC

— Outer semicircles

1,100 years each

Adam to Shem’s close
4106–3006 BC

Moses to Peleg’s close
1406–2506 BC

— Inner semicircles

1,100 years each · shifted 150 years later

Jared opens → Peleg closes
Source 3606–2506 · Drawn 3456–2356

Terah opens → Methuselah closes
Source 2206–3306 · Drawn 2056–3156

— Noah’s semicircles

1,650 years each · regular Rounded MT

Creation to the Flood
4106–2456 BC

Conquest to Noah’s birth
1406–3056 BC

The short comparison

The source overlap 3306–2906–2506 BC appears at 3156–2756–2356 after translation. Its two halves still measure 400 years each.

On the same axis, 2756 BC bisects both Creation to Conquest (1,350 + 1,350) and Noah’s birth to the Flood (300 + 300).

Horizontal spans give elapsed time along each modeled curve. At π ≈ 22/7, the diameters are 700 years for the generations and 1,050 for Noah.

All named generational boundaries in this comparison belong to the 27-century reconstruction, with second Cainan included.